Ending Discrimination Against Young People

($19.95, 190 pgs, 2013)

ISBN-13: 978-1492183822

Summarizing an almost endless list of downfalls in modern society's approach to teaching, parenting, and treating children and youth, this book offers new ways adults can stop their negative attitudes and behaviors towards young people.

SoundOut Student Voice Curriculum

($99.95, 378 pgs, 2012)

ISBN-13: 978-1483941394

A collection of twenty-seven session plans, a facilitator's guide, a student handbook and an evaluation guide designed to teach high school students about how they can become partners in changing schools. Used in more than 50 middle and high schools internationally, this curriculum exemplifies modern, empowered student leadership today.

The Guide to Student Voice

($14.99, 62 pgs, 2013)

ISBN-13: 978-1484995044

A clear, conversational guide on how adults can partner with students to improve schools, and do it successfully. Students, teachers, administrators, advocates, and others will find practical tools, theory, and implementation activities, as well as resources and more.

The Freechild Project Youth-Driven Programming Guide

($10.99, 38 pgs, 2013)

ISBN-13: 978-1482607727

This is an introduction to youth-driven programming for nonprofits, government agencies, and other youth-serving organizations. The booklet gives a definition and compares approaches, and then provides planning tools, evaluations and assessments, and more. It includes the Ladder of Youth Voice, rubrics for assessing youth-driven programming, and links to examples and resources that readers can explore on their own.
